

Content Roadmap – 2025/2026

Strategic Vision

Our content roadmap for 2025-2026 focuses on three pillars: expanding our Action and Sci-Fi slate to meet demonstrated demand, revitalizing the Comedy vertical with fresh talent, and growing original Drama productions for underserved markets.

Q2–Q3 2025 Releases

Vortex Rising (Sci-Fi) – Already released June 2025, tracking at 4.9M views and climbing. Sequel greenlit.

Silent Echo (Thriller) – August 2025 release. Pre-release buzz is strong. Marketing campaign focuses on mystery and suspense angles.

Blue Horizon (Drama) – July 2025. Family drama targeting suburban demographics. Influencer campaign with family lifestyle creators.

Q4 2025 Pipeline

Stellar Run 2 (Action) – Sequel to the highest-rated title of 2025. Production budget: $120M. Release target: November 2025.

Cosmic Drift (Sci-Fi) – Original IP with strong concept test scores. Budget: $150M. Targeting the same demographic as Hollow Earth.

Comedy Reboot Initiative – Three new comedy series with reformed creative direction, based on audience research indicating preference for character-driven, observational humor over slapstick.

2026 Strategic Slate

At least 6 original Action titles planned, maintaining genre leadership.

2 prestige Drama productions targeting award recognition and long-tail viewership.

International co-productions for Mumbai, London, and Dubai markets to capitalize on strong regional engagement.

Comedy vertical target: achieve genre average rating of 7.0+ by Q4 2026 through new talent and format experimentation.

Trending Content Signals

Stellar Run is trending due to its unique blend of high-octane action sequences, a critically praised screenplay, and strong word-of-mouth amplified by social media discussions. The title topped trending charts for 6 consecutive weeks.

Hollow Earth is trending due to its groundbreaking visual effects and a thought-provoking storyline that generated significant online discourse.